

Think-alouds

Support Description

A think-aloud is a support that allows students to discuss how they are processing information. With a teacher, or with their peers, students are allowed to work through information to find an answer or form a response.